

A Travel Nurse's Guide To Living in Greensboro, NC

If you're looking for Southern charm, historic architecture, and plenty of greenspace while still getting all the amenities of a vibrant city, consider Greensboro, North Carolina for your next travel nursing assignment. The third-largest city in North Carolina has a little bit of everything, from delicious eateries to world-class sporting events to lush and inviting public parks and gardens.

If you're wondering what living in Greensboro NC is really like, read on. From the best neighborhoods to the cost of living, we'll give you the straight dish on this up-and-coming city. We'll also provide some helpful tips for making the most of your time in the Gate City.

Whether you're just beginning to research your next assignment or you're ready to pack your bags and go, we'll cover everything you need to know!

Find Your Homebase: Greensboro's Best Neighborhoods

Greensboro is a large city with a variety of neighborhoods to choose from. If you're looking for a quiet suburban area with easy access to amenities, then you might want to consider neighborhoods like Old Irving Park or the Dunleath Historic District. If you're looking for a more urban environment with plenty of entertainment options, restaurants, and shopping, then downtown Greensboro is for you.

To narrow down your search, here are five of the top neighborhoods in Greensboro:

Fisher Park

One of our favorite areas in Greensboro is the historic Fisher Park district. It's a welcoming, walkable, family-friendly neighborhood. Some of its best features include:¹

- Close to downtown
- Lots of neighborhood shops and restaurants
- A generous 12-acre greenspace, packed with walking trails and featuring a playground and sparkling stream

Dunleath Historic District

The Dunleath Historic District (formerly known as the Aycock Historic District)² is a one-of-a-kind neighborhood at the northeastern side of downtown Greensboro. It's brimming with classic architectural beauty—in fact, it's even on the National Register of Historic Districts. It's home to many attractions, including:

- Greensboro Farmers Curb Market
- Dunleath Community Garden
- Sternberger Artists Center

Old Irving Park

One of Greensboro's most upscale neighborhoods, Old Irving Park is another option for those who are looking for a suburban feel without being too far from downtown Greensboro.³ The neighborhood features:

- Broad, walkable streets and well-maintained homes
- Nearby shopping and dining options
- A short drive to some of Greensboro's best hospitals and medical facilities, making it an ideal location to be close to work

Dunleath Historic District

The Dunleath Historic District (formerly known as the Aycock Historic District)² is a one-of-a-kind neighborhood at the northeastern side of downtown Greensboro. It's brimming with classic architectural beauty—in fact, it's even on the National Register of Historic Districts. It's home to many attractions, including:

- Greensboro Farmers Curb Market
- Dunleath Community Garden
- Sternberger Artists Center

Summerfield

Summerfield is a large suburb of Greensboro located a bit further afield than the other neighborhoods we've discussed. But if you're looking for a rural feeling with plenty of fresh air and greenery, look no further. And when you're ready to get a taste of the city, a 20-minute drive will take you from Summerfield to bustling downtown Greensboro.

Downtown Greensboro

Downtown Greensboro is the perfect choice for those who want to be in the heart of the action. The area features plenty of nightlife and entertainment options, as well as restaurants and shops. And if being close to work is your top neighborhood criteria, downtown Greensboro is home to several hospitals and medical facilities.

Cost of Living in Greensboro, North Carolina

As a moderately-sized city of 280,000 people, the cost of living in Greensboro NC is very reasonable, especially compared to other major cities in the United States:⁴

¹ "Fisher Park Neighborhood." Our Neighborhood, Fisher Park Neighborhood Association.
<https://www.fisherparknc.org/our-neighborhood>.

² "A Short History of the Neighborhood." Dunleath Historic District,
<https://www.dunleath.org/more-about-dunleath>.

³ Briggs, Benjamin, et al. "The Secrets of Irving Park." Preservation Greensboro Incorporated, 20 Sept. 2022,
<https://preservationgreensboro.org/the-secrets-of-irving-park/>.